

Improving the lives of people affected by a disability or chronic disease.

Community Health Charities (CHC) connects you to the Health Charities that you care about. These charities serve as a vital lifeline to those suffering from diabetes, heart diseases, cancer, liver disease, kidney disease, autism, Alzheimer's and many others just as devastating as these. When you donate to one or more of the health charities on this list, you provide the following services to Tennesseans in your community: life-saving medical research, patient care and access to community outreach programs.

You Decide: Giving to a charity is personal. You select the health charities that make a difference in your life. All designations are honored regardless of the gift amount. There are no minimum dollar requirements.

Local: Your donations go to the nearest local branch of the charity you select, supporting charities in your community.

When you give to CHC, you can do so in one of three ways. You can choose a specific charity or combination of charities from the list on the opposite page or you can designate either of the two funds listed here:

Community Health Charities of Tennessee, 12000

Designations to this fund support CHC-TN's services to member health charities. For additional county code numbers, please call us at 1-877-835-8101 ext. 2.

Hope in Action Fund, 12222

Designations to this fund are divided evenly among all local member health charities so they can provide patient services, health education and medical research for cures.

When you give to either of the funds above or the specific charities of your choice (listed on the next page), your money funds research, patient care and program development for those needing help in Knoxville and beyond.

Charities listed below are providing services to Knoxville and surrounding areas. Charities listed below in orange indicate groups have an actual Knoxville office.
